

Allies Sink Jap Transport, Blast 2 Cargo Vessels

By The Associated Press
American and Australian bombers combined to sink an 8,000-ton Japanese transport and damage two cargo ships in the general area of Rabaul, bringing to 122 the number of enemy ships sunk or damaged in the south Pacific this month.

The action, which has become almost a daily occurrence, emphasized the remark by a Navy spokesman in Washington that the Japanese command at Rabaul may be seriously considering abandoning the base as too hot to hold.

Other allied planes destroyed 23 and probably 33 Japanese planes, running the total for the first half of November to at least 444 enemy planes, compared with 74 for all of October, which was a record month.

Twenty of the enemy aerial losses occurred in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiqué today were brought down by an outnumbered formation of 7-400 alt. battle alt. 64 bombers and fighters dropping 76 tons of bombs on the Japanese transport and two cargo ships.

The allies retaliated by dropping 11 tons of bombs on the Japanese transport and two cargo ships.

Other allied planes destroyed 23 and probably 33 Japanese planes, running the total for the first half of November to at least 444 enemy planes, compared with 74 for all of October, which was a record month.

Farm Sales Rise, Survey Discloses

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Idaho AAA officials today released initial results of a survey of farm sales for the week of Nov. 10-16.

The survey, which is part of a long series of such studies, all of which show a steady increase in farm sales, disclosed that the average price for a bushel of wheat was 1.15 cents, up from 1.10 cents a week earlier.

The survey also disclosed that the average price for a bushel of corn was 1.15 cents, up from 1.10 cents a week earlier.

FDR, Churchill Meeting With Stalin Seen in Near Future

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Diplomatic sources were hopeful today that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin will meet soon to discuss decisive battle plans for winter and spring.

The meeting is expected to be an imminent crisis in the Balkans.

Few Changes in Draft Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Selective service officials said today that they had no intention of making any changes in the draft law.

The officials said that the draft law was being reviewed, but that they had no intention of making any changes.

Ration Eased on Children's Shoes

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—A supply of children's non-leather shoes will be made available to the ration board.

Runaway Comes Home and Asks Good Spanking

ST. HELENS, Ore., Nov. 17 (AP)—Jimmy Sheeder, 14-year-old diabetic runaway boy, near collapse from lack of insulin, walked into his home early today and asked for a spanking.

SOONS CONCEDE SUBSIDY DEFEAT ON HOUSE BALLOT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Outnumbered and outnumbered, supporters of the administration subsidy program conceded defeat today that they are likely in the house to be defeated on a vote.

Reds Cut Nazi Rail Lines as Korosten, Gomel Near Seizure

MOSCOW, Nov. 17 (AP)—Red armies chopping through the German transport network in the western Ukraine clamped a siege around Korosten today, and front reports said that the railway junction, a gateway to Poland, was about to fall.

Gomel Threatened

MOSCOW, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Red army's advance on the western Ukraine clamped a siege around Korosten today, and front reports said that the railway junction, a gateway to Poland, was about to fall.

Refusal Forecast

ALBANY, N.Y., Nov. 17 (AP)—The Albany Board of Health today refused to issue a permit for the sale of alcohol.

Yanks Regain Ground Taken in Nazi Drive

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Nov. 17 (AP)—American troops have recaptured some of the ground lost to German counter-attacks on Mount Croce north of Vennafro, driving across heights swept by cold winter winds.

100 Expected at State Air Meet

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—State officials today announced that 100 aircraft are expected to participate in the annual state air meet.

U.S. May Pay for Bond Advertising

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The bill providing for government purchase of war bonds and stamps is expected to be passed by the House today.

All Seattle Helps to Find War Orphan Electric Train

SEATTLE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Seven-year-old Patrick Huey was found today by a Seattle electric train.

New Ruling Made On Coal Delivery

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Coal delivery rules have been revised by the Federal Coal Commission.

Children's Shoes

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—A supply of children's non-leather shoes will be made available to the ration board.

Ration Eased on Children's Shoes

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—A supply of children's non-leather shoes will be made available to the ration board.

HOME COMING AT CAREY ARRANGED

CAREY, Nov. 17.—Final plans are complete for the D. B. Carey homecoming and homecoming to be held Friday evening, Nov. 19, at the recreation hall.

Consistent reporting on the progress of plans estimate a large crowd will be in attendance from the Carey ward and surrounding communities.

Will Review History
The outstanding event of the evening will be the reading of the story of the settling of Carey valley and the organization of the Carey ward, told by a descendant of the first families to spend a winter in Carey valley in 1880.

The history of early, rich in romance and Indian lore of the old west, represents a typical example of pioneer settlements. Material numbers will be furnished by the missionary class of the Sunday school.

The banquet, under the direction of Mrs. Charley Hinkel and Mrs. Alice York, president of the Primary and Relief society organizations, will commence at 7 o'clock, followed by the dance at 8:30.

Began in 1880
This ward reunion and homecoming is the first to be held in the new recreation hall which has just been completed by the people of Carey valley. The church organization was first started in the late 1800s when Rev. Philip Anderson, a Swedish pastor, organized a Sunday school. Later in the early 1890s a "branch" of the church was organized at Carey valley.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Harris, later Mr. and Mrs. Harris, were the first to settle in Carey valley. Mr. Harris was the first bishop. Since that time six men have succeeded in that office. Bishop H. E. Adamson is now leader of the ward with a membership of approximately 375.

Baby Falls Into Cistern; Rescued
RICHFIELD, Nov. 17.—Donald G. Smith, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, was rescued after falling in an eight foot cistern behind his home north of Richfield Sunday.

The child was found and removed from the four feet of water with a net. He was taken to the hospital where a doctor's examination it is believed the child was not seriously injured by the fall which saved him from drowning and swallowing large quantities of water.

Dr. Fred Haldridge, of the Richfield Red Cross mobile unit, administered first aid.

Buhl's Students Earn $24,189.64
TWIN FALLS, Nov. 17.—With 274 students from the high school districts working a total of 83,600 hours and earning a total of $24,189.64, the Buhl harvest vacation has been termed "well worth it" to the participating districts.

In the high school 112 boys worked a total of 11,300 hours, earning $2,625.45, 11 girls worked a total of 1,500 hours, earning $1,757.71.

Junior high school students earned a total of 1,540 hours, earning $4,339.69. The high school girls, who have the intermediate grades, reported that 130 students worked for a total of 1,600 hours and received in earnings $4,257.67. Primary students from the P. H. Buhl school reported that 100 students worked in the harvest, with a total earnings of $2,166.40.

Eighty-one per cent of senior high school students worked, and 80 per cent from the junior high school.

Two Shifts for Bean Warehouse
HAZLETON, Nov. 17.—Work at the remodeled and newly decorated packing rooms of the Bialow warehouse operated Monday and Tuesday to be operated on two shifts during the winter months. Local women are employed for one shift and Japanese labor has been secured for one shift.

For some weeks now the Bialow warehouse has been operating on a 18-hour-a-day, six days a week schedule in order to handle the heavy load of processing of peas and beans to be processed in this section.

RUPERT
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson, Ashton, Idaho, with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, Twin Falls, are visiting in Rupert, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. William McKellar, former Rupert resident, has returned to her home in Bellingham, Wash., after visiting several weeks on business and visiting relatives.

Pvt. Keith Whitley, after a week's furlough spent here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Whitley, left for Moscow where he will be stationed with a specialized training unit at the University of Idaho. He was on leave from Camp Roberts, Calif.

Youth members of the Rupert Christian church attending the convention of Christian Endeavor were Miss Kathryn Kohler, Miss Rose Marie Quast, Miss Florence Quast, Miss Lillian Patchett, Miss Berna May Deen and Miss Catherine Cunningham, accompanied by Rev. D. E. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter French have returned from a month's visit in Illinois and Missouri.

SPOT CASH
For Food or Worthless Items
Killer and Cow
Call Collect 1225-J. Twin Falls
MARY ALICE TROUT FARM

C. E. Jubilee Executive Committee

This is the executive committee for the Idaho state Christian Endeavor jubilee convention, which closed its three-day program Sunday. Members seated, left to right, are: Dorothy Spoke, Twin Falls, treasurer; Martin D. Linscheid, Aberdeen, who was elected president; and Mr. Glenn Wyatt, Buhl, registrar. Members standing, left to right, are: Rev. Alvin Kiehl, Pocatello, pastor-emeritus; Rev. Edgar Toevs, Aberdeen, vice-president; Rev. Mark L. Koehler, head of the Bible department, Whitworth college, Spokane, Wash.; and William Niles, Burley, treasurer. (Staff Engraving)

THANKSGIVING'S HISTORY TRACED

"Thanksgiving Through the Ages" was outlined by Rev. H. McCaillister to the Rotary club Tuesday.

"Many of our social customs we perpetuate have a great antiquity. The original meaning of which we have already lost," he said. "This is true also of Thanksgiving."

"The Hebrews appear to have been among the earliest people to get thanks to their gods for harvest and the earth's fruitfulness."

Mentioning other ancient who observed Thanksgiving, Mr. McCaillister said that the ancient Greeks had a nine-day period in which they gave thanks to their gods for harvest and the earth's fruitfulness.

Speaking of Thanksgiving in our own country, he said the first proclamation to observe such a day was issued by Gov. William Bradford in the Plymouth colony Dec. 13, 1621.

"When the constitution was adopted in 1789, congress requested Washington to appoint a time of universal Thanksgiving, which was Thursday, Nov. 26 of that year."

Lincoln in 1863 proclaimed the last Thursday in November the national Thanksgiving day—which has remained until the present time as a day for a little "talking" a couple of hours.

The clergyman closed with the statement that "although this Thanksgiving comes at a time when the world is at war and there is much suffering, it is still a day when we should turn our thoughts to God for the high privileges we have in our country."

Guests this week were Mrs. J. Frank Carpenter, son of Rotarian John Carpenter, Twin Falls, and a visiting Rotarian, William Niles, Burley.

Boys Accused in Hailey Car Theft

HAILEY, Nov. 17.—Auto theft complaint against a convalescent sailor was dismissed, and the same officer against a 16-year-old Hailey has been ordered continued until Dec. 15.

The naval conviction is Henry Fletcher, 17. The civilian is Ed Carter, 18. Both came to the attention of the Hailey police on the same day they allegedly took the Buick sedan owned by Charles Harris, Hailey.

Harris signed the complaint against the two youths, Sheriff L. O. Quist went to Jerome and returned the defendants and the stolen machine.

Since the naval authorities would not receive Fletcher as long as the felony charge was pending against him, the complaint was dismissed as to Fletcher on motion of J. M. Padden, prosecutor. The sailor was then turned over to naval authorities at Sun Valley.

Carter was released to his father and returned to his own recognition, after the case against him was continued until Dec. 15.

Series of Movies at School Play Event

In a play assembly at Twin Falls high school, Don Sillen, a native of New England, showed a series of technical motion pictures on the north Atlantic seacoast. The pictures, which he took himself, were of the fishing industry, shipbuilding, prominent seaports and the historic service.

When speaking of shipbuilding he told the students that wooden ships, which are built largely by hand and are held together with wooden pegs, are built from 50 to 60 years, whereas from about 25 years.

HAVERHILL RESIONS
DOVER, Nov. 17.—Rosa A. Haworth, assistant Idaho secretary of state, has resigned to accept a position with a Cleveland, O., insurance company. He will be succeeded by J. H. Barrett, a Haverhill corporation clerk in the secretary of state office.

NELSON PROMISES NOT TO QUIT WPB

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Chairman Donald M. Nelson is reported to have secured top officials of the war production board who will stay on as long as WPB remains a first-ranking agency.

Information sources said Nelson informed that he would continue WPB to have lost top-rank status if it did not have authority over the demobilization of industry and post-war reconversion, and that he would resign if that control were lost.

In passing the word along to his chief aides, Nelson was believed secured by three motives: To quiet reports that he would leave WPB on the heels of his executive vice-chairman, Charles E. Wilson, who returns shortly to the General Electric company.

To forestall any resolute of top management taken from WPB, in Wilson's wake.

To indicate his confidence that the demobilization job is still not lost to WPB, despite the recent White House appointment of Bernard M. Baruch as director of a new war and post-war adjustment unit.

Nelson was known to have been alarmed, when, on returning from the east, he learned that the war and post-war adjustment office had been set up. He went to President Roosevelt last week to get a clarification of Baruch's authority.

LABOR CAMP EXPANDED
HAZLETON, Nov. 17.—The labor camp has been augmented by converting the Legion building into a dormitory to house Mexican workers in the best fields.

Gas on Stomach
Charles E. Hunsaker, a member of the Twin Falls chapter of the American Legion, is suffering from indigestion and heart trouble, doctors say. He has been in the hospital for several days.

GRAZING AREA 2 ELECTION NOV. 27

BURLEY, Nov. 17.—Annual election of members to the advisory board of Twin Falls district No. 2 of the federal grazing service will be held in Burley and Malad on Saturday, Nov. 27.

According to District Grazier M. W. March, Burley, this will be the first election to be held in more than one place. Distribution of polling places for the election, which will be held in the National Hotel, will be in Malad the night before, and in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

The election will be held in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

Advisory board members whose terms expire are those of Art Pierce, Malad; Donald M. Nelson, Malad; Milton T. Jones, cattle representative from Malad; Jesse T. Dredge, sheep representative from Malad.

The board consists of ten members, five from each ward. The members are: Art Pierce, Malad; Donald M. Nelson, Malad; Milton T. Jones, cattle representative from Malad; Jesse T. Dredge, sheep representative from Malad.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Announcement of the date and place for the annual meeting of the advisory board of grazing lands will be made in the National hotel on Saturday, Nov. 27.

It is an election in this advisory board election, the voters must be a livestock or land owner who is qualified to receive a grazing permit or free-use license or permit within the grazing area.

Democrats, at Boise Parley, Discuss Rebuttals for GOP

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—A bunch of Democrats, simply talking in Boise over the week-end and decided, so the well-attended story goes, that the election should be to carry the over-optimism of Idaho Republicans.

The alliance from the state Democratic headquarters of Chairman Robert Coulter has been almost oppressive. The doubly little man, though, is not at all unimpressive. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate. He is a sound all the while GOP candidate and a sound all the while GOP candidate.

SPRINGDALE

Otto Bieden, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bieden, arrived from Providence, R. I., where he has been employed in the coast guard. He will leave for his home in Springdale, Idaho, on Sunday.

There will be no church services in Springdale on Sunday because of the conference in Burley.

Egt. Ed Schaffer and Mrs. Schaffer, Rupert, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Aufmann, Pocatello. Schaffer is on a furlough after overseas duty.

FINE QUALITY CARDS
25 For $1.00
NAME PRINTED FINE
C. C. ANDERSON CO.
ORDER EARLY

THE TIMES-NEWS FARM SALE CALENDAR

★
SALE DATES

NOVEMBER 18
Jim H. Martin
Advertisement, Nov. 16

NOVEMBER 18
Chas H. Hager
Advertisement, Nov. 15
Registered Little Sale

NOVEMBER 19
Earl D. Miller
Advertisement, Nov. 17

NOVEMBER 22
G. E. Chastan
Advertisement, Nov. 19

TUESDAY, NOV. 23
F. W. NEALE
Advertisement, Nov. 21

NOVEMBER 24
J. N. Binkley
Advertisement, Nov. 22

NOVEMBER 26
E. D. Ihler
Advertisement, Nov. 23

NOVEMBER 26
Wonnock & Johnson
Advertisement, Nov. 23

ATTENTION FARMERS
Look to the source of accuracy and the large number of farm size lots available. This is the best major sale using a 5-minute 5-hour ad or more.

SALE STARTS 1 P. M. PUBLIC SALE

Will sell the following described property at the ranch, 2 miles south of Hansen on the Rock Creek Road,

FARM, NOV. 19

COME EARLY — STARTS 1 P. M. — STAY LATE
LUNCH ON GROUNDS BY HANSEN GRANGE

HORSES

Matched bay team, mare and gelding, 6 and 7 years, weight 3000.
Team mares, smooth mouth, weight 3000
Team mares, blue roan, 5 years, weight 1800; black, 8 years, weight 1800
Team geldings, smooth mouth, weight 3000.

CATTLE—15 HEAD

Brindle cow, 3 years old, fresh Nov. 30.
Red cow, cow, 4 years old, fresh Nov. 30.
Jersey cow, 3 years old, fresh Nov. 30.
Jersey cow, 4 years old, to freshen March 1.
Jersey cow, 10 years old, to freshen March 9.
Jersey cow, 8 years old, giving 3 gallons.
Roan heifer with calf at side.

One yearling steer
6 spring calves — 3 heifers — 3 steers.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Full size rug, 3 dressers, bed, kitchen table, 4 chairs, chest of drawers, 2-hole laundry stove, library table, 4-gal. egg-cup.

EARL D. MILLER, Owner

BILL HOLLENBECK, Auctioneer
MRS. HOLLENBECK, Clerk

USERS CANS

*1 Pontiac 4 door
*1 Chevrolet, 5 passenger, coupe
*1 Chevrolet 2 door
*3 Ford 3 door
*3 Plymouth coupe

ANNUAL CREDIT PLAN
Jesse M. Chase
Killer and Cow
Call Collect 1225-J. Twin Falls
MARY ALICE TROUT FARM

Shoshone 51 & 2nd Ave. Twin Falls Idaho 251

Helpful Tricks in Saving Used Fats

TAKE ANY TYPIN CAN and tie these cloth loosely over top. Or set an old attrainer on top, and leave it there. Add every drop of kitchen fats you can no longer use for cooking. Or just throw fats into an unstrained, and when can is full, strain the whole lot at once into another can.

PLEASE HELP! Used fats no matter how black are needed desperately for ammunition and for medicines. Save them in a tin can, not glass. Any kind of can will do. Rush them to your meat dealer. Start doing it today, want you?

Approved by War Production Board, Paid for by Industry.

The Doctor's Daughters

By FAITH BALDWIN

COPYRIGHT, 1943.
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: When Jim Thompson became Doctor Hall's assistant, he joined the Hall household. Nancy Hall, spoiled and bored in father's by his attention but raised by Dr. Warner, Mrs. Hall would like to encourage wealthy Frank Edgar, however, seems more interested in the other daughter, Emily, a flitting New talent on her job. Emily goes out on a case with Jim.

THE PARTY WAS BELL

Nancy was out when they reached home. Jim and Emily ate in the kitchen, over Ellen's protest. Cold meat, bread, a salad, biscuits and preserves, custard, fruit tea.

"Then biscuits was fresh-baked," said Ellen with pleasure. "Now they're stale cold."

"Head 'em up," said Emily cheerfully. "I'm on hungry I need eat biscuits. I don't know who I had an elegant lunch at the table."

"What's that?" asked Jim. "Oh, well, have to take on three more time," she said. "I know you didn't know. I ran into Frank and he insisted I was lunch time, and I was back and know."

"Frank?" he said. "Cutting Nancy out, are you?"

"Don't be silly. But to let anyone else, she felt the color rise. He was instantly very cheerful. He raised Ellen, until her eyes shined, demanded more tea and another custard."

"What in the world," demanded Ellen, entering the kitchen, "is this all about?"

"Frank Edgar," said Jim solemnly. "His paying court to my sister."

"Don't be ridiculous," said Emily shortly.

"He took her to lunch," explained Jim, "and she's going to the club with him tomorrow night. A little bit of fun, that's all."

"Well," said Ellen, promising go upstairs, "why shouldn't she take her old friends? She looked Emily's cheek lightly and went on her way. Jim stared after her blankly. He said, solemnly:

"I don't put foot in it. What? She didn't the first, did she?"

The doctress raged.

"Folks!" he growled, and rose. He looked down at Emily, drinking the last of her tea. He said, "This has been fun, hasn't it?"

"But somehow the fun was gone as he walked back toward the office and the patient."

When his office hours were over and he had been upstairs to see David Hall, he yawned, stretched, felt suddenly tired. It would be pleasant to return to the apartment, turn on his radio, read a little while before turning in. Perhaps there wouldn't be any calls. Then he remembered that he had promised Hilma Kasten he would run out to the hospital and see her before he went to bed. He looked at his watch. It was not too late. There had been only three patients this evening. He'd go, he'd give his word. It wouldn't be out of order, he would not disturb the ward.

Emily was sitting on the front steps as he came out. He said, pausing beside her:

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim. Her high voice followed Emily through the hall. "Must you always think of work... the party was dull, so I came home..."

The world's loudest noise was the volcanic explosion in the air of the hospital, which was heard as far away as Bangkok, a distance of more than 1,400 miles.

It's the cat's paw!

Let's go somewhere else—that's the game I lost 10 bucks on!

"You ought to be in bed."

"I'm sorry. I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.

"I'm going to see Hilma Kasten. Want to ride along?" he begged.

"Of course." She jumped up and went out to the car with him. She said, as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I'm hoping you'd ask me."

After a silence, he asked cautiously:

"Where'd Nancy go?"

"Oh, out with gang," Emily replied vaguely. "It seems to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."

He asked abruptly:

"Are you better sorry for me?"

She said, quickly, "You needn't be. I don't want to really. Nancy always looks me, but well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came out into the car where Emily waited.

"Everything all right?" he announced.

"When they drive in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for him. She said, as they came from the garage together:

"Where in time have you been?"

Dr. Thompson could not help smiling. "Must have been better here on the phone with us." He looked up at Emily who had purred on the steps beside her. "Frank told me he took you to lunch," she said.

"So he did, and a very good one, too," Emily assured her.

"Unlike you, last night," asked Nancy curiously, "mixing business with pleasure?"

She rose before Emily could answer, stretched her arms above her head. "It's a marvelous night," she said. "Jim, why can't you take us for a drive?"

"Sorry," he said. "There may be some calls and even doctors love to be careful of gas."

"I'm off to bed," Emily told them. "Good night, you two." She went on in the house and upstairs to see her father. But the light from the living room had given her a clear view of Nancy's party face, provocative, and rebellious, turned to Jim

BURLEY MAY GET WEATHER OFFICE

BURLEY, Nov. 17.—Burley airport has a good prospect of securing a full weather report office under a civil aeronautics administration set-up, according to A. M. Solomon, city commission in charge of airport activities.

The present CAA communication station here merely relay weather reports between Boise, Ogden and other points. The expanded office here would mean that five additional men would be added to the present crew. Added facilities here for accommodation of pilots and air travelers are already planned by Burley city council and Chamber of Commerce, as a means of bringing more importance to Burley airport.

The newly completed hangar can accommodate 25 planes, and the almost-finished repair shop can handle not only all planes passing through, but can service a large flying school here, Solomon points out. Runway "A" has been resurfaced this fall, and the other half-mile-long runway will be re-surfaced soon.

There is so great activity here as in any similar airport in the northwest. During October 18 army and navy planes landed here, and more than 100 planes, by actual count, passed the post, using directional beams that emanate from the local CAA communication office," Solomon pointed out. Material for booster lights at the airport has been ordered, and since priorities have been allowed, delivery is expected within two more days.

In order to accommodate the deal for an enlarged weather station here, Solomon explains that the city must erect another building at the airport, at a cost of probably $5,000. He believes that the added airport facilities, together with prestige it will give Burley airport, and the bringing of new families to the city will make the building worthwhile.

FILER

George Anthony, who is in training at Reed's college, Portland, Ore. is home to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams and son, Charles, have returned to Chico, Calif., after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Eisenbright.

Mrs. I. B. Wood, Ravina, Wyo., has arrived for a month's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cobb.

Dr. I. A. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson are moving to their new office building on Sixth avenue and Yakima.

Mrs. Lee Siepp, Albany, Ore., is visiting at the home of her twin sister, Mrs. Peter Slater.

Mrs. E. E. Lee submitted to a major operation recently at the county hospital.

Mrs. Betty Dir has returned to her home in San Francisco after a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Slater, who have been visiting relatives, have returned to San Francisco.

The Public Forum

QUESTION MRS. ROOSEVELT'S TRIP TO PACIFIC

Editor, Times-News:

Mrs. Roosevelt is explaining, or trying to explain, the 21,000-mile jaunt she made by air through the southwest Pacific area, and the more she explains the less a lot of American taxpayers want to have all the facts about this tour.

The only way I could make the trip was by army and navy air transportation," Mrs. Roosevelt said at her press conference. "There are no commercial means of travel in those areas now. This was furnished by the government, but I paid my own expenses otherwise."

Certainly the only way she could make this trip was in army and navy planes. But why was it necessary for her to make this trip?

She paid her own expenses except for transportation. But what other expense was there that amounted to anything? And what other expense was there but transportation on her visit to Guadalcanal? And when American forces in the southwest Pacific are at short on air power as they have been all along, why would fighter planes needed in the war against the Japs have to waste their time and tax dollars escorting and reconnoitering Mrs. Roosevelt on a rubbernecking jaunt?

I heard a United States treasury announcement that it takes one $100 bond to keep an airplane in the air two hours. Which leads us to wonder how many $100 bonds Mrs. Roosevelt's trip consumed. And that leads to another question: Is the lady a private citizen or an official?

If she is a private citizen by what right is she allowed to much traveling in government planes?

If she is an official, what office does she hold?

MRS. NIK STELLA (Buhl)

MURTAUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Littlefield and two children have gone to Hamden, where they were called by the death of Mr. Littlefield's mother.

Philip Rogers, U. S. navy, Honolulu, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Drexlin.

John Drexlin left this week for Salt Lake City where he was inducted into the army. Mrs. Drexlin will leave soon to make her home in Richmond, Calif., and will be accompanied by Miss Peggy O'Dell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Larsen and children, O'Dell, Donna and David, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O. Moyle.

Final Rites for Jo Ann Doramus

BURLEY, Nov. 17.—Final rites for Jo Ann Doramus, eight, were held at the Buhl Baptist church, with Rev. Isaac Todd of Castelfield officiating.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Ruth Pinkston, Mrs. Della Fields and Mrs. Margaret Melton.

Palbearers were Arlie Partin, Keith Bishop, Lusk McCoy and Kenneth Bishop. Flower attendants were Janice Brewer, Garbelle King, Dorothy Briggs, Helene Orcutt.

Funeral was in the Buhl cemetery under the direction of the Alpertson funeral home.

The female bullfrog deposits 25,000 eggs during spawning season.

Farm Bureau Sets Officer Election

BURLEY, Nov. 17.—Annual meeting and election of Cassia county farm bureau members will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, M. J. Biggs, president, announced today.

The meeting will be held in the county agent's rooms in the court house basement.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and plans for the state farm bureau annual convention to be held here Nov. 22 and 23 will be completed.

An all-woman British repair and rebuilding factory recently set a record by stripping down, repairing and reassembling two blazed three-ton trucks in six hours each.

AN UNEXPECTED SURPRISE FOR PENNEY CUSTOMERS!

This is a Genuine
Clearance

It Conforms in Every Way with the Rules and Regulations of the WPB and the OPA)

Even in these days of merchandise shortages, every store oc-asionally opt to find itself with too much
merchandise on hand
in some departments.
When that happens,
the thing to do is to use every legitimate means to move it into the hands of those who can put it to immediate use!

Fortunately for you,
we find ourselves today, at the very peak of the season, with too much Fall and Winter apparel for women and girls...
styles and qualities to use RIGHT NOW!

So we have reduced many of them to price levels that will remind you of pre-war values!

This is one of your best opportunities to explain your word-
robust savings no one can afford to ignore.

You will find every item plainly marked with our selling price
and our clearance
price; you yourself can check your savings.

J. C. Penney Co.

26 Fur Lined Coats
Sharply reduced for immediate Clearance $25.00

Misses' and Women's Sizes

Marked Down Dresses
Three Big Groups
$1.00 $2.00 $4.00
Rare Bargains for Thrifty Shoppers

15 Swagger Coats
Sharply reduced for immediate Clearance $15.00

Misses' and Women's Sizes

Other Wonderful Values in Small Quantities!

10 Soiled Blouses $1.50
13 White Blouses $2.50
10 Striped Blouses $2.50
5 Floral Design Skirts $2.00
12 Infants' Pinafores $1.00
4 Soiled Sweaters $1.00
8 Babies' Coats .50
5 Infants' Suits 3.00
9 Knit Caps .50
7 Ladies' Jackets $4.00

Just Unpacked 144 pair
Men's Formost Brand
COWBOY STYLE

OVERALLS

Narrow legs, short waisted
Sanforized for permanent fit $1.49

75% Wool
UNION SUITS
Long legs and sleeves—all sizes now for men $2.09

34 Tailored Coats
Priced low for immediate Clearance $10.00

Misses' and Women's Sizes

136 Ladies' Hats
$1.00 and $2.00
Hurry! Hurry! For Big Reductions

16 Ladies' Suits
Prices slashed for immediate Clearance $10.00

Sizes for Misses

Girls' Apparel, Too!

GIRLS' JACKETS

Marked down from much higher prices
All-wool qualities included $3.98

SLACK SUITS

Reduced for quick clearance.
Buy and save $2.00

TINY TOTS DRESSES

Slightly soiled. All at a big saving $1.00

KNIT JACKETS

Knit cotton jackets in pastel shades.
All sizes 79c

GIRLS' DRESSES

Better dresses in this lot.
Dramatically reduced $1.50

PENNEYS

J. C. Penney Co., Inc.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday

When you're spending precious "CATSUP POINTS" BE SURE YOU GET THE BEST FOR YOUR STAMPS!

Ration stamps entitle you to specified quantities of food regardless of quality. To get the best for your stamps (and your money!) buy quality brands whenever you can. In catsup, that means CH-B... thick, richer and more delicious... In the exclusive easy-to-pour bottle. Of course, these days "our boys" have first call on all CH-B products. But we're working hard to supply your grocer, too... so keep on looking for this famous label... CH-B.

Just a little Better
...but what a difference!

CH-B
CATSUP-PICKLES
CONDIMENTS